

Facebook Covid-19 Update #46

March 26, 2021

BallouLife Communities has come through another week Covid-19 free. We are hopefully seeing the light at the proverbial end of the tunnel. Our last staff positive test was two weeks ago, no other positive tests since then. We are now accepting admissions. The quarantine guidelines are being closely followed to protect the safety of your loved ones.

Visitation continues running smoothly. Tomorrow is the start of Saturday visits. We do ask that you kindly change your cloth facemask for either an N95 or surgical mask when you come to visit. These afford much better protection for all involved and at this time we do require this higher level of protection. These masks are readily available when you arrive for your appointment.

With the advent of the better weather, we will be having outdoor visitation. This will be held in the gazebo at the back of the property line just behind the patio that the residents have access to. This area is far enough away from the patio that you will have privacy with your loved one. We are doing our best to provide the best visit possible for everyone involved.

Next Sunday is Palm Sunday, we will observe Palm Monday with all the trappings, Palms and Communion. The following Sunday is Easter Sunday, we are busy on making that a special day for all. Over the next two weeks the residents will be working on their Easter Bonnets for the Easter Sunday Bonnet Banquet. Tiffany and company will provide a superb feast as they always do. The kitchen takes a great deal of pride in the food that they provide even more so on the holidays.

As always, wash your hands, wear a mask, socially distance, keep your circle small and safe, and get a vaccine.

Respectfully submitted,

Ruth A. Daly, RN, Infection Preventionist
